COLORPOINT

Body should be softly shaded in the areas of the shoulders and haunches. The points (ears, mask, legs, feet and tail) must be darker than the body color and well-defined. The chest, bib and chin may be slightly lighter than body color. Soft color shading is allowed on underbelly.
Withhold wins: If there is white anywhere on the cat.

MITTED

Body should be softly shaded and the points (ears, mask, legs {except feet and tail) must be darker than the body and well-defined. A solid or broken blaze on the nose and between the eyes is acceptable. Blaze may not enter into the nose leather causing a change in nose leather color. The chin and bib must be white. A white stripe of varying width should extend from the chin to the underside of the body and may be interrupted by patches of point color. The white stripe might not be visible in cats under 1 year of age. Ideally, the front feet should have white mittens evenly matched with scalloping or peaking allowed, not to extend above the bend of paw. All toes to be white. Ideal boots are to be white up to and extending around the hock entirely and are to be no higher than mid thigh.
Nose leather must match the point color. Paw Pads: Pink paw pads are preferred, but pink mottled with point color is acceptable.

Penalize: Point color spotting in boots. Boots shorter than the hock. The shorter the boot the more severe the penalty should be. White runners up underside of front legs; absence of a white solid or broken line on underbelly of cats over one (1) year of age.

Withhold Win: Lack of a white chin. White on ears. Point color spotting in mittens.

BICOLOR

The points (ears, mask and tail) are to be well-defined and the mask is to have a white inverted "V" on the face. The ideal V bisects the eyes evenly and should be as symmetrical as possible. The stomach, ruff, chin and legs are to be white. Body color or point color should not extend below the elbow on the front legs or below the hocks on the rear. The body color must be lighter than the points and may have various markings of white and color patches.
